

COVID-19 RESOURCE TRACKER

OVERVIEW

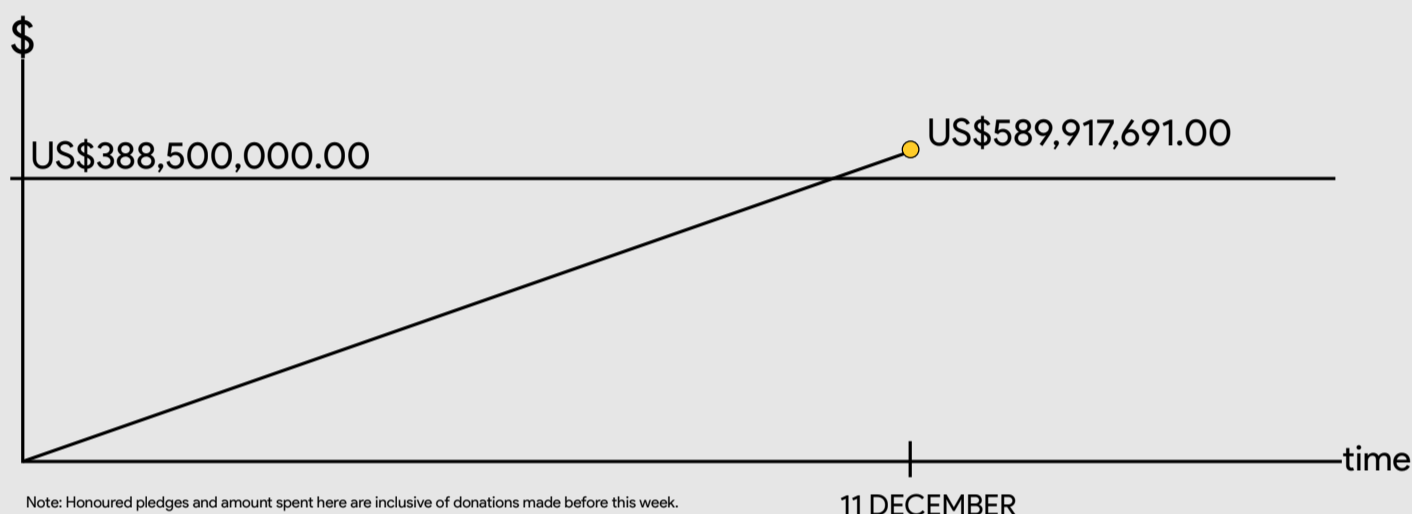

Zimbabwe has been trying to mobilise resources to respond in the best way possible to the devastating social and economic effects of corona virus. The Zimbabwe COVID-19 resource tracker is a civil society initiative by ZIMCODD to keep track of all resources pledged, received and utilised by the government of Zimbabwe in the COVID-19 response. ZIMCODD notes with concern that accountability for these resources is equally important as the resources themselves. This tracker has been developed to strengthen transparency and accountability by the government on COVID-19 resources while empowering citizens with information to hold the government to account on allocation and utilisation of COVID-19 resources. The tracker is updated on a weekly basis to show pledges honoured, resources received and resources expended.

MAJOR CONCERNS

- Citizens are concerned about the ZWL$54.7billion allocated to the health sector in the 2021 national budget in terms of its adequacy to revamp the dilapidated health service delivery.
- The surging COVID-19 cases among learners is very worrying. This underscores the need for resource allocation towards strengthening COVID-19 response in learning institutions.
- Citizens bemoan that the disbursement of the cushioning fund meant for informal traders and vulnerable families in response to the effects of COVID-19 was riddled with corruption where the political elites benefitted while the vulnerable plunge further into poverty.
- Citizens lament the presentation of a second national budget in a row before undertaking an audit on previous year's expenditure. Hope continues to be pinned on the release of the findings of the COVID-19 resources audit from the Office of the Auditor General. It is anticipated that the hope is that the process will unearth and address irregularities in the mismanagement and misappropriation of public funds in disaster contexts.

RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE GOVERNMENT

- The government needs to adequately resource, safeguard and improve the country's healthcare system and health service delivery. There is need to strengthen the primary healthcare and to enhance the capacity of existing public health facilities in the face of a second COVID-19 phase.
- There should be deliberate effort by the government to ensure that the budget lines allocated to Primary and Secondary and Higher Education enables the education sector to provide adequate PPEs to protect teachers and learners from the deadly virus while providing more resources towards COVID-19 testing and quarantine services in schools to curb further spread of COVID-19 cases.
- The government should expedite the implementation of social protection measures 2021 national budget has to do more towards strengthening social safety nets so as to cushion citizens from the socioeconomic impacts of COVID-19. From the constrained budget allocation presented by the Finance Minister, the government through the social welfare must ensure that deserving vulnerable citizens benefit from the aid. In this regard, the ministry should desist from using political structures to identify and distribute aid.
- The government must expedite the uptake and implementation of the Auditor General's findings and recommendations to safeguard public resources. This will inculcate transparency and accountability in public resource governance and ensure progressive realisation of social and economic justice.
